Living Cost Sets Record For 8th Time

Sharp Increase In Food Prices Broke April Mark

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government reported today that a sharp increase in food prices pushed the cost of living to another new record level in April. The rise means an automatic 2-cent hourly wage increase for 1,400,000 automotive, farmer equipment and electrical workers. The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said its consumer price index rose three-tenths of one per cent between March and April to 119.3 per cent of average 1947-49 prices.

It was the eighth consecutive month in which the index set a new record.

The April index was 3.8 per cent higher than a year ago.

The two-cent hourly pay increase will go to workers whose wage contracts contain escalator clauses tied to the cost of living index for April. The increase will be paid on June 1, along with an increase of at least 6 cents an hour for workers in the automobile industry as an annual improvement factor.

The BLS said that higher prices for meats and fresh fruits and Good Evening!

Flower garden of the world.

That's Lower Buck from Southampton to Washington's Crossing to Morrisville to Andalusia and never a prettier spot anywhere in the land.

Ferdinand would be in his greatest glory.

Phillies should get back on the glory road tonight as they meet the Pirates and with Rookie Sanford in his best form we think they will.

You want to watch our ball-players. From what's been happening the past few weeks, they could be pennant contenders all the way.

This Salk vaccine program at Lower Bucks hospital is something to behold and to cheer about, incidentally.

When it comes to leading the nation in enlightened thinking and performance, Lower Bucks takes a back seat to no community anywhere. This Salk $1 shot business as an example.

Again you have to throw a respectful salute to hospital, staff, nurses, the County Health Department and the Bucks County Medical Society. You know, this sort of thing makes you proud all over again to live here.

Hey! Circus Day tomorrow!

Great day for all the kinds — from one to 100 when Clyde Beaty's show moves in. Wonder if a fellow can still get a free pass for watering the elephants?

Probably the best thing to do for prematurely gray hair is to admire it.

That season's practically here again — when the gals spend so much money on bathing suits. But it's okay. They usually have plenty to show for it.

It takes a man to admit he's wrong and a woman to prove it.

If you drive, be careful.

First Steel Stamps

Mrs. Catherine Ottolini, postmistress of the Fairless Hills post office, presents the first sheet of the three-cent Steel Centennial Commemorative stamp to Edgar B. Speer, general superintendent of the Fairless Works of the U. S. Steel Corporation. Issued nationally yesterday at 38,000 post offices across the country, the vertical blue stamp features a pouring ladle, symbolizing the steel industry. Superimposed is an eagle with outspread wings, symbolizing America.

Knowland Sticks To Budget Stand

WASHINGTON—UP — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, unswayed by a softening among some congressmen toward President Eisenhower's budget, today stood by his statements that federal spending should be cut three billion dollars.

But Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in one of his few policy speeches this year, jumped into the budget battle last night with a strong defense of the administration's money requests.

The President also picked up some top level GOP support in the House on his foreign aid program. Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) and Democratic Leader John W. McCormack already had lined up against meat-ax cuts in the program. Rayburn has predicted the house would be fairly generous in acting on the $3,865,000,000 foreign aid request.

The Fight Credited Some congressional quarters credited Eisenhower's new all-out fight to save his budget with helping to blunt the economy drive.

In other budget developments: —The House opened debate on the defense budget which has been trimmed $2,587,000,000 in committee. The House was expected to go along with the cuts

Murdered Girl's Body Found In Glen

PARAMUS, N.J. (UP) — The almost naked body of a 15-year-old school girl, garroted with her own white plastic belt, was found in a glen just off a lonely lovers' lane yesterday.

The murdered girl, Ruth Zeitler, apparently the victim of a sex attack, was discovered by two small boys near a golf course.

The girl's body, stripped from the waist down, her blouse and brassiere torn, was lying in a recess about 200 feet off the roadway.

It was the second sex murder of a 15-year-old girl in the area in recent months and spurred police in their search for another missing 15-year-old girl, Shirley Ann Pepe of nearby Lincoln Park.

despite Eisenhower's objections to the reduction. The vote was expected to come next week.

Boy Scouts To Encamp

More than 1,200 Boy Scouts and scouters of Bucks County will encamp at Washington Crossing State Park this weekend in the annual County Council Camporee. They will make camp at 2 p.m. tomorrow, starting a two-day program of camping, cooking, demonstrations and a big campfire. The Scout Council has invited the public to visit the camporee.

After supper tomorrow, the scouts will assemble in the Valley of Concentration, where George Washington's troops massed before the historic Delaware crossing, for a retreat ceremony. A campfire will follow.

Sunday, church services will be held at 9 a.m. At 10 a.m., there will be demonstrations of archery and fire and emergency equipment. The scouts will break camp at 2 p.m.

Salk Clinic Sets Record At Hospital

3717 Persons Get Inoculations For One-Day Mark

Another Salk vaccination record was set at the Lower Bucks County Hospital yesterday, midway through the current three-day polio shot clinic, with 3,717 persons vaccinated from noon to 8 p.m.

And the long lines of children and adults who reported to the hospital for their first, second, and third Salk shots moved in and out as fast as the vaccination needles. The $1 shots are sponsored by the hospital medical staff, through arrangements with the Bucks County Health Department and Medical Society.

County Clinics

Meanwhile, to anxious parents of children with colds, a hospital spokesman pointed out that county Salk clinics will soon be repeated at local schools. Children with colds are advised not to take the vaccinations.

The Salk vaccinations are continuing today from noon to 8 p.m. Yesterday's number set the two-day total this week at 6,532 injections. It seems a certainty that by 8 o'clock tonight, the total vaccinations will exceed 8,519; the number vaccinated in the clinic last month.

Age Groups

Meanwhile, a breakdown of Salk shot records by age groups showed that more adults than children are being inoculated. The clinics are the first opportunity adults have had for low-cost shots.

Vaccinated Wednesday, by age groups were:

Up to five years old, 587; six to ten, 85; 11 to 15, 48; 16 to 19, 54. From 20 to 24, 235; 25-29, 560; 30-34, 662; 35-39, 425; 40 and over, 61.

Volunteers: staff doctors, Red Cross workers, Hospital Auxiliary members and staff and county nurses and hospital employees donating their extra hours worked together to speed the vaccination line. A line of several hundred persons, for instance, was vaccinated in the last 20 minutes.

Hot Weekend Coming Up

A grass cutting, sun baking, street strolling weekend is shaping up for Lower Bucks today. Today's afternoon high is expected to climb over the 80 mark with a comfortable overnight low near 50 forecast.

Another shiny warm day is forecast by the U.S. Weather Bureau for tomorrow with temperatures in the 80's and clear skies on tap.

Sunday will be clear with warmer temperatures reaching the high 80's and a slight chance of occasional showers.

Yesterday's high moved steadily up the thermometer to a 5 p.m. reading of 83. The low this morning was 70 at 5 a.m. with a reading of 75 marked at 10 a.m.

Hospital To Release

Benny Hooper Today

MANORVILLE, N.Y. (UP)—Seven-year-old Benny Hooper, who survived 23½ hours in the bottom of a well shaft, goes home today, almost completely recovered from his terrifying ordeal.

Although somewhat wobbly from his experience and six-day hospital stay, the sandy-haired youngster was reported well on the road to recovery by Dr. Joseph Kris, who has attended him since his rescue last Friday night. It will be at least another 10 days, however, before Benny will be permitted to return to school—something he said yesterday he was anxious to do.

HILDY MCCOY ELLIS

A Happy Hildy Graduates Today

MIAMI BEACH — UP — Freckle-faced Hildy McCoy and the Jewish couple who took her into their home happily celebrated her first grade graduation today, knowing for the first time they will always belong to each other.

Hildy, 6, was to make the welcoming speech to parents and act and dance in a rendition of "Snow White And The Seven Dwarfs" in ceremonies at the Lear Private School.

But no fairy tale could match the real-life drama for Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis, yesterday before Gov. Leroy Collins at Tallahassee.

Extradition Request Denied

Collins announced late yesterday after a hearing that he is denying a petition to extradite the Jewish couple to Massachusetts where they would face charges of kidnaping the blonde, blue-eyed child they have reared from infancy. They will be permitted to live in Florida and rear Hildy as a Jew, even though she was born to a Roman Catholic mother.

Ellis said the child's future religious training had not been decided.

"She has been taught only to believe in God—her training had not emphasized the Jewish religion," he said.

The Ellis family spent several months in Levittown with relatives in their constant flight to keep the courts from taking Hildy from them.

Hildy's mother, who put her up for adoption and changed her mind when she learned the Ellises were Jewish, sought to have Hildy placed in an orphanage for adoption by a Roman Catholic

Fairless Works Promotes 8

Eight management appointments in the Maintenance and Utilities Division of Central Operations of the Fairless Works of United States Steel Corporation were announced today by Edgar B. Speer, general superintendent.

William E. Rigot was appointed general supervisor, maintenance planning, central shops department; Whilmer Shinn to lubrication engineer; Frank H. Steinman to assistant general foreman, waste heat and auxiliary services; Charles D. Lund to foreman, field pipelitters; Charles V. Hagan to turn foreman, power station; Ralph R. Barr to general foreman, electrical operations; Irvine J. Hetherington to supervisor, salvage, and William A. Sech to technical coordinator.

The mob violence began as a small demonstration in front of the U.S. Embassy against the acquittal of a U.S. Army master sergeant on voluntary manslaughter charges for the fatal shooting of a Chinese he caught peeping in the bathroom window at his nude wife.

The crowd surged out of control and the mobs stormed into the embassy, tore down the American flag, ran up the Chinese Nationalist flag and then destroyed the interior of the building. Later they tried to burn down the two-story concrete structure.

Acquittal Of GI Sergeant Sets Off Riots

TAIPEI, Formosa —UP— Chinese mobs wrecked the United States Embassy and other buildings, burned embassy cars and beat up at least nine Americans in a series of riots today. The Nationalist government imposed limited martial law tonight.

The rioters, inflamed over the acquittal of an American soldier by a U.S. Army court-martial for the slaying of a Chinese peeping tom, overran and wrecked even the Taipei police station.

They also smashed the offices of the United States Information Service and attempted to storm the headquarters of the U.S. Military Advisory Group.

Nationalist police stood by without acting when a few hundred persons started demonstrating in front of the embassy. But this small crowd soon swelled to a mob of about 10,000 and an orgy of violence began.

Arrest Some Rioters

Belatedly, the police moved in to stop the rioting and arrested a number of demonstrators. Their friends stormed the police station in an effort to free them.

The government tonight declared martial law in all areas where American installations and homes are located.

All Americans were advised to stay off the streets.

The Nationalist government called out hundreds of police when the rioting spread through the city and one mob tried to storm the three-story "sugar building," the main headquarters for the American military advisory group.

The Chinese army set up machine guns to protect the sugar building where hundreds of American servicemen are stationed.

Dozens of Americans were feared hurt by the mobs which roamed through the streets waving Nationalist flags and chanting anti-American slogans. The injured included embassy employees, soldiers and a Marine guard. One GI suffered severe throat cuts.

Bristol Twp. Appeals On Drive-In Site

Commissioners Plan Court Action To Stop Lease Move

Bristol Township has appealed to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in its dispute with Bristol Borough over the proposed leasing of a portion of the borough well field for a drive-in theater.

Also, the township Board of Commissioners, at a special meeting this week, authorized its solicitor William J. Carlin to proceed with court action to prevent the borough from leasing the land.

Carlin said the legal papers necessary to file the bill in equity are prepared and need only the signatures of the board president and secretary. He expects to file sometime next week.

Prohibit

The bill in equity will ask the court to prohibit the borough from leasing the 18-acre tract at Routes 13 and 413.

Borough Council has already passed an ordinance authorizing leasing of the land to the Eric Corporation, but Burgess Anthony R. Nicols has not signed it.

The township claims a drive-in would create a danger of pollution to the underground water supply.

Carlin said he wrote a letter to the PUC asking an investigation of the situation. He said he

Bucks Groups Join To Request End To Testing Atomic Arms

Three area organizations are urging President Eisenhower to propose a meeting to discuss outlawing the testing of thermonuclear weapons.

The groups are the Bucks County Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, Southampton Friends Meeting, and the Friends Service Association.

To finance their campaign the groups are sponsoring a concert of the Fellowship Choir of the William Penn Center. The concert will be given 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cushman. Makefield Road, Stoopville, north of Newtown.

If the weather permits, the concert will be outdoors, but will be inside in case of rain.

Prior to the concert, guests will be invited to tour "Friendly Manor," the Cushman home. Refreshments will be served.

Also, before the concert, there will be a brief presentation of statements concerning dangers involved from fallout.

Advertising

The money raised through the concert will be used to finance newspaper advertisement appealing to the President to ask for a meeting between nations now testing atomic and hydrogen bombs.

To find the Cushman home, follow Route 413, through Newtown, turn left at Goodnoes Dairy Bar, then take the first right turn, on Eagle Road.

Stone Mansion

Follow Eagle Road to store on corner, then turn right. The home, a large stone mansion, is three-quarters of a mile up the road on the right. Miss Marion H. Longshore, chairman of the league for Peace and Freedom, asked persons unable to attend the concert but who wish to contribute to the campaign to send a check to the Friends Service Association, William Penn Center, Fallsington, and indicate it is for the advertisement.

Fire Company Files Suit In Truck Crash

Fairless Hills Fire Co., this week filed a civil suit in county court in which it is seeking $10,000 damages done to its fire truck as a result of a collision with a dump truck Oct. 19.

The company is bringing suit against Gene Trofe, 430 Prospect Ave., Morrisville, and Elmer Sottung, 2111 State Road, Croydon, driver and owner of the dump truck respectively.

Oxford-Newportville Roads
The fire company claims Trofe's "negligence" was responsible for the collision, which occurred at the intersection of Oxford Valley and Newportville Roads.

The suit points out that the fire truck, operated by Thomas Whyte, was answering a fire in Levittown and had its lights and sirens on.

The fire truck was in the intersection when it was struck on the side, the suit claims, and Trofe "failed to grant the right of way."

The fire truck collided with a car and overturned in a ditch, causing $9,885 damage.

Before the accident the truck was worth $11,000 but it is now worth only $1,115, the company claims.

Two Workers Are Injured

Bertram Trace, 34, of Newtown-Doylstown Road, Newtown, remained semi-conscious in Lower Bucks County Hospital this morning with a fractured arm and possible skull fracture, the result of an accident at the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp. last night.

He and Steve V. Pensock, 170 Cohalt Ridge Drive, Levittown, were injured when a compressor spring slipped as they worked in the storehouse of the open hearth division. Pensock was treated at the plant dispensary for a cut finger.

The two were moving the spring at 7:30 p.m., a company spokesman said. Trace, using a sledge hammer, slipped and fell 20 feet. The vibration pulled a crowbar from Pensock's hand.

In another accident, Howard James, 44, of 621 Beaumont Road, a feeder in the number two weld mill at the National Tube Division was hit in the face with a steel bar. He was admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital at 3:25 p.m. yesterday with a fractured cheek bone and injuries around the eye.

Police Seek Identity Of Dead Slayer

CHICAGO (UP)—Authorities today sought to identify a hitchhiker who shot and killed a policeman in the "Gold Coast" suburb of Winnetka and then committed suicide.

Killed in the mystery slaying last night was officer Robert E. Burke, 30, who lived with his wife, Dolores, in suburban Glenview.

Authorities said the hitchhiker, who was well dressed and carried a brown suitcase, apparently "panicked" when Burke stopped to question him.

School Children Seen 'Unfit' In Indulgences

HARRISBURG — UP — The Joint State Government Commission was authorized today to begin a study of how to improve the physical fitness of Pennsylvania school children who have been weakened by "excessive use of automobiles, buses and television."

A resolution sponsored by Sen. J. Irving Whalley (R-Somerset) and unanimously adopted by the state Senate yesterday said studies revealed the percentage of American youths "physically unfit with respect to muscular strength and flexibility" is between 34 and 49 per cent higher than in European countries.

"This condition has been brought about to a great extent by indulgent parents, unwillingness of children to participate in exercise, and excessive use of automobiles, buses and television," the measure said.

The resolution said public schools are "ideal places for carrying out a program of rehabilitating physically unfit youths" with drills, calisthenics and exercises and directed the JSGC to study the problems of physical fitness and prepare remedial legislation for the next session of the Legislature.

Seeing Levittown

By LEE GARB

Bobbie Littman, who's 10 years old and lives at 263 Goldenridge Drive, has a parakeet named "Inky" who doesn't do or say very much except when someone leaves the house. Then, if he feels like it he might say goodbye.

Bobbie's mother, Mrs. Julius Littman, called last night to tell us that they'll never again consider "Inky" a "bird of little brain" because yesterday he went into a frenzy of chatter and screeching to let his family know that a trash bag in the kitchen was on fire.

We're sure that had he had a fire extinguisher, "Inky" would have merely doused the flames without saying anything...he's not stupid, just laconic!

June Bierman of 1 Lavendar Lane, Lakeside, is enjoying a family reunion...her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John David are visiting her from England. This is the first time in ten years they've seen each other. The Davids live on Hersham Road, Walton on Thames, Surrey.

Heard at the Salk Shot Clinic at LBC Hospital: "But I don't need it...there's nothing wrong with my arm." And a very happy youngster said: "I just came along to watch my mother and daddy get theirs!"

And while we're on it...if you're one of those people who've decided to beat the system...you know, "I'll wait until everyone else gets immunized, then I won't need it..." don't kid yourself. According to the Health Dept., everyone can be immunized but still carry the polio virus. As Dr. Davis has said, it's every man for himself.

Dinner music: Levittown Volunteer Fire Company 2 has changed its daily siren test time from 1 to 6 p.m.

Profound thoughts regarding circuses: We've heard, for years now, the remark that people make when speaking of a particular one day and evening stand... "They don't have the whole circus here...they've left some of it."

What we'd like to know once and for all is... "where could they have left it?" And one more expression, to wit: "They leave a lot of stuff out of the afternoon show, so I'm going in the evening." Have you ever watched the roustabouts working on the tight routine of "setting-up" all during the show? It would cost more money and time to leave something out than to run it.

Bristol Bracken Cadets To Kick Off Busy Season

The Robert W. Bracken American Legion Cadets, of Bristol, a corps of junior drummers, buglers and color guardsmen 62-members strong, is launching a busier-than-ever season tonight at Philadelphia's Connie Mack Stadium.

The boys and girls who carry the Cavalier banner will put on a marching drill exhibition at 6:30 o'clock tonight as part of the Johnny Night festivities to benefit crippled children. The cadets' show will precede a baseball game between the Phillies and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Tullytown Parade
Sunday the Bracken Cadets will march up Main St., Tullytown, in the Memorial Day parade and program sponsored by the Bracken Legion Post. It starts at 1 p.m.

The cadets will be in a "double header" Memorial Day itself, next Thursday. They'll be in the Bristol parade at 9 a.m., then go to Germantown, Philadelphia, for Memorial services.

June 14, Flag Day, the Bristol cadets will march in the Philadelphia parade, on the Parkway and Chestnut St.

July 4 will be another double day for the Cavaliers. At 1 p.m. they will participate in the Feasterville parade sponsored by the Lions Club. Then they will journey to Newark, N. J., to compete in the Dream Contest sponsored by the St. Vincent Cadets in Roosevelt Stadium.

TEETH ROCK, ETC.

DAVENPORT, Iowa (UP) — Mrs. Opal Hurst of Bettendorf has filed suit against a dentist for fitting her with what she called "rock 'n' roll dentures." Mrs. Hurst, in seeking $130 damages and $5,000 for mental and physical pain, said the teeth not only "rock 'n' roll" but also "click and slip and slide."

Senator Asks Public Airing Of State Bills

HARRISBURG — UP — A Democratic senator today posed the threat of a filibuster because of slashes by the Republican leadership in the funds to operate state hospitals.

Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton) demanded the Senate Appropriations Committee hold public hearings when the appropriation bills reach that chamber. He said he was particularly concerned with the 17 million dollars cut from the administration budget for state hospitals.

Hospital Officials

"We haven't had a filibuster yet this session," Yosko said. "But we are going to have one if the directors and superintendents of our state hospitals aren't given a hearing on their needs."

Meanwhile, in the House, 63 money bills, including the General Appropriation Bill, were sent to the floor for final action expected early next week.

The general appropriation measure totaled $1,107,307,466. Among the other big appropriation bills were $144,600,000 for public assistance; 24 million dollars for state-aided hospitals and $27,713,400 for operation of Pennsylvania State University.

State Aided Colleges

The appropriations for state aided colleges and universities included:

University of Pennsylvania, $5,482,620; School of Medicine, $2,012,000; School of Veterinary Medicine, $918,500; Temple University $3,837,834; Temple School of Medicine, $2,070,000; University of Pittsburgh, $4,737,546.

The appropriation bills which reached the floor yesterday totaled $1,385,323,031.

The House GOP leaders decided to give their proposal for an increase in school subsidies another whirl after boosting them by $1,000,000 to $31,300,000. The subsidy bill was returned to the floor by the House Appropriation Committee. Strong opposition from big-city delegations marked their recommitment last week.

Parkland Boy Held In Jail

A 17-year-old Parkland boy was committed to Bucks County Prison, Doylestown, yesterday to await action of juvenile authorities on two burglary charges.

The youth was arrested by Middletown Township police Tuesday for questioning of the burglaries. After intensive interrogation he admitted the crimes, according to police.

Patrolman Paul H. Mucklow, who made the arrest, said the boy broke into the home of Mrs. James Lamond, at 1624 Rambler Road, Parkland, about Jan. 9. A government savings bond of $100, various denominations of foreign currency a .22 calibre automatic pistol as well as letters and pictures were taken from the home.

The youth also is charged with breaking into the home of Edith Bosler, 1519 Rambler Road, Parkland, on May 6. A small children's bank, with an undetermined amount of money in it, an income tax refund check for $220 and a wrist watch were taken from the home.

The boy was taken before JP Albert H. Schultz, of Bensalem Township, yesterday, who ordered him held for juvenile authorities.

Tavern Owners Held In $1000 Bail

Justice of the Peace William R. Wrigley this week held the owners of Hoffman's Ivyland Inn and a bartender and a waitress for the next term of Bucks County criminal court.

State Liquor Control Board agents raided the inn, at Greeley Ave. and Bristol Road, Ivyland, May 3. Sixteen juveniles were at the inn and some were buying intoxicating beverages. Friends of the defendants posted bail for them after several hours of waiting in Wrigley's Edison office.

Robert C. Hoffman, 36, and his wife, Madelyn, 31, were released on $1000 bail each. They are charged with selling liquor to minors, and permitting sales to minors.

Richard Barrett, 33, Lacey Park, the bartender, and Mrs. Helen Williams, 34, of Hatboro, were released under $500 bail each, on a charge of selling to minors.

Bright and early tomorrow (about 7 a.m.) the circus equipment will begin arriving from Plainfield N.J., where the circus is appearing today.

Huge Breakfast

First on the circus lot on Route 13 at Edgely will be the circus cook tent. This is set up first to have a huge breakfast ready for all the working people of the circus.

Just as soon as breakfast is over the amazing tented city begins to arise. Canvas is unrolled, then sections of the tents are stitched together. The circus elephants join all the tractors in erecting the huge center poles and then slowly the big top arises.

Almost before the canvas is off the ground and rising into the air, an army of workers swarm under the tent to erect grandstands, set up chairs, hook up the performers rigging, put up the band stand, erect the big steel arena for Clyde Beatty's wild animal act etc.

At the same time, all around the big top itself lots of other activity is taking place. Other stands of cotton candy and popcorn, the big Side Show tent, the menagerie tent, are all going up too.

In the "backyard" of the circus the dressing room tents also are going up. Performers are busy unpacking their costumes and wardrobe and getting their "props" ready for the big show.

Erecting a huge circus in a matter of a few hours has been called "organized confusion" and has been the marvel of onlookers for years.

But out of the welter of confusion, electric cables, animals, etc., suddenly the whole thing is ready.

Under the top an assistant manager sings out "Doors" the signal to ushers, ticket sellers, that the show is open and the public will be coming in. The band strikes up a lively circus tune and once again... "It's Circus Day."

The Clyde Beatty Circus will present two complete shows, one in the afternoon and one at night and then everything is done once again in reverse. Down come the tents, and all the equipment is packed away and ready to move to Philadelphia where the show opens an eight day engagement Sunday afternoon.

Area Camp Dispute

Court Asks Records Of Zoning Board

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite yesterday ordered Bensalem township zoning board of adjustment to submit its records to court in a zoning dispute over a child's camp.

Judge Satterthwaite issued the writ of certiorari after an appeal was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Press, 2746 Mechanicsville Road, Cornwells Heights.

The couple claims that the zoning board, in issuing them a zoning permit to build two cabins and a recreational building, included "unconstitutional" conditions and restrictions.

They said the conditions under which they can have the permit include, 1-no burning of rubbish on their eight-acre camp grounds; 2-no public address system; 3-a recommendation to erect a fence; 4-an 8-week summer season, and no boarding of more than 15 per cent of the camp population.

Day, Boarding Camp

The couple run a combination day and boarding camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Press claim the board is without power to impose the foregoing restrictions and that the restrictions are "unreasonable and arbitrary." They also claim the restrictions are unconstitutional.

They are asking the court, in the appeal, to overrule the restrictions.

The couple has operated the camp since 1952, two years before the zoning ordinance was passed, and the recreational building is to replace one which was destroyed by fire.

State May Study State Police Morale

HARRISBURG — UP — The General Assembly today considered a proposed study of the morale and efficiency of the state police force with a view to revamping its personnel policies and introducing "new and radical" equipment and law enforcement methods.

A resolution introduced yesterday by Republican Sens. Robert D. Fleming (Allegheny) and Thomas A. Ehrigood (Lebanon) said "the state police force is now faced with a problem of morale and efficiency" as the result of its promotion and retirement policies, and that "no new and radical changes in equipment and law enforcement have been made available" to officers.

COP Club Pays Tribute To McCarthy

Tribute to the late Senator Joseph R. McCarthy was paid by the Bristol Township Republican Club last night at a meeting in the Croydon Fire House.

With vice-chairman Joseph O'Donnell presiding, the township Republicans adopted a resolution honoring the late Wisconsin Republican senator who became a controversial figure in his fight against Communism. The resolution was introduced by Martin Patrick.

At the same meeting, James Monte, victor in the Fourth Ward commissioner contest in the party primary Tuesday, was elected club president. Mr. Monte defeated his Republican opponent, Joseph O. Seader, two to one, on Tuesday.

Also elected were Francis X. Chester, first vice president; Lennox Markley, second vice president; Anna Armstrong, treasurer; Frederick L. Stewart, secretary and Mr. Patrick, membership chairman.

The McCarthy resolution will be sent to the senator's widow, Jean, and to Rep. Willard S. Curtin, who will be asked to insert it in the Congressional Record.

It puts the township Republican Club on record honoring the late senator and noting with "sincere regret" his passing.

"Be it resolved," the document reads, "that his memory and his unselfish crusade and worthwhile accomplishments be always in our hearts."

It states that Senator McCarthy "under severe pressure, harassment and unjust persecution, fought the Communist Party and the Communist infiltration in our government and in our great country... was slandered, ridiculed and falsely accused because, being a good American, he courageously attempted to save our American heritage and strengthen our national security... became a 'martyr without blood' for the cause of exposing Communist activities in our government and the apathy toward these activities by many high ranking government officials... was a brave and loyal American and a devoted public servant."

Patrol Members Await Picnic Day

More than 100 members of the safety patrol in Morrisville are anxiously waiting the annual picnic Monday of the group at Willow Grove.

Over 1000 youngsters from all over Lower Bucks County will be guests of their respective police chiefs.

Morrisville Chief John S. Davis said his group will leave at noon from in front of the high school for the trip by bus to Willow Grove.

"All the kids have to bring is a hearty appetite," the chief said.

Police, businesses, the AAA, and the Keystone Club, will pay all expenses including transportation, and 4000 hot dogs, cases of soda and goodies of every kind.

The students will be given the afternoon off from school to participate in the outing. One of the highlights of the affair will be a pie-eating contest among the patrol members.

Mrs. Beatrice Copper, secretary in the police office, and Mrs. Madeline Davis, wife of the chief, will be among the chaperones at the picnic.

Disarmament Huddle Called

WASHINGTON —UP— The administration called a top-level huddle today to try to complete work on a new disarmament proposal calling for a "small slice" arms cut that would include missiles, ships, tanks and planes capable of carrying atomic weapons.

The tentative plan, as disclosed Thursday, provides that weapons taken out of action would be delivered to an international depot where they would be held under careful inspection.

It also calls for an aerial-ground inspection agreement with Russia on a test basis—probably in the arctic zones of both countries. The inspection would start when the arms cut took effect.

Atomic Development Limit
The plan, at its current stage, also provides for a worldwide agreement by nations now lacking atomic arms that they will not develop them. This would limit atomic-armed countries to the United States, Russia and Britain.

Bensalem Fire Cuts Garage

Firemen from four Bensalem fire units joined efforts and snuffed out a garage fire early this morning before flames could reach the home's breezeway and main house.

The fire, at 2:30 a.m. today, was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guim, 905 Ann St., Andalusia. Damage was estimated at $500.

Chief Bill Ervin, Cornwells Fire Co. 1, in charge of fire-fighting operations, had firemen pull the Guim's car out of the garage, play hoses over a flaming refrigerator and walls of the stucco building.

Flames crept up the walls and into the wooden ceiling of the garage, he said, eating through the boards and starting to chew into the breezeway wood.

Chief Ervin said the fire apparently started from the refrigerator. A blanket over the refrigerator caught fire and burned, he said. Intense heat filled the room and smoke billowed into the house.

Mrs. Guim said her husband, who recently returned from a serious operation, discovered smoke and looked out and saw the flames creeping toward the house.

Home only two weeks from the hospital, Mr. Guim and his wife were sleeping in the living room with the screen door open.

The box was damaged by smoke, charring, and water, the chief said. Walls of the building were scorched, he said, and the ceiling burned and charred. A gaping hole is between the garage and breezeway where firemen stopped the blaze, he said.

United from Eddington, Union of Cornwells, and Newport, joined Cornwells 1 in stopping the flames.

PTA Plans 'Cakeless' Cake Sale

The Morrisville Holy Trinity School PTA is planning a "cakeless cake sale" to raise funds for the school building fund.

Mrs. Evelyn Harbourn, publicity director of the group, explained the purpose of a cake sale is to raise money and "we'll try and do it without selling the cake."

She said they will use the name of cake sale but not offer any cake. "We just want persons to contribute to the fund raising drive and we don't want to sell cake to do it."

At a meeting this week, the group installed its officers for the 1957-58 school year.

Officers installed were Mrs. William Collins, president; Mrs. Anthony Gavrish, first vice president; Mrs. David Cushing, second vice president; Mrs. E. J. Frangesh, treasurer; Mrs. Edward Mellvane, recording secretary and Mrs. Heady Howell, corresponding secretary.

The meeting of the Police Chiefs Association is set for July 21 to 24 at the Ben Franklin Hotel in Philadelphia.

Chief Watson said the police officials will discuss highway safety, police training, and community betterment among their floor topics.

Barn-Raising Crew Needs Volunteers

An urgent appeal for help was issued today by Edward Duckenfield, president of the Trevo Heights Fire Co., which is sponsoring the barn-raising at Oakford.

For the last three weekends, volunteer workers have been donating time to help replace the barn lost by Howard and Albert Yerkes in the March 30 arson fire at Oakford.

On each of those weekends, the number of volunteers has decreased. Last week, there were only eight persons working to lay cinder blocks.

But during those weekends, the volunteer workers accomplished a lot. After an extensive clean-up of the rubble from the fire, the volunteers completed the building's first story, nine feet high.

Duckenfield declared today, "We must have help this weekend. Indications are we will have ideal weather conditions and a chance to make real progress."
